ROWAN PUBLIC LIBRARY
SALISBURY, N. C.

c.1 53 Clevana.

We, the staff, present the seventh edition of the Clevana. Our aim has been to present a true picture of the students and activities of Cleveland High School. We hope that in the years to come you will be able to refresh these cherished memories by turning through the pages of this book.

Dedication

We, the seniors, proudly dedicate this, the seventh edition of the Clevana, to our faithful advisor Mrs. Merriel Battle, for her wise guidance and her helpfulness in publishing this annual; and to our principal, Mr. Ben H. Battle for his friendly interest in us and tireless efforts toward making this a better school.

We leave with them our undying appreciation for the valuable time which they devoted to preparing us for our future life.

Class History

Four years ago thirty-eight scared but determined freshmen began the long, hard journey toward graduation. There was enthusiasm blooming in the heart of each boy and girl as we entered into this new phase of life. Our struggle toward a high school education seemed a little rough at first. Knowing our reward, the diploma, we put our minds at ease and settled down to work.

As we began our freshman year, we selected as our leaders Carlton Myers, President; Jack Galliher, Vice-President; Dot Campbell, Secretary; and Willie Mae Graham, Treasurer. Soon everyone became accustomed to the new adventure and each joined together, seeking to attain our goal. This was a very successful year, thanks to our advisor, Mrs. Nita Wagoner, who worked untiringly with us, day in and day out, encouraging us on.

As we reached the bend and rounded the path for the second lap on our journey, our hopes were beginning to shine brighter. We had become better acquainted with high school ideas, and felt self-assured. Our class leaders chosen for this year were Dot Campbell, President; Ann Powlas, Vice-President; Jacqueline Lloyd, Secretary; and Jack Galliher, Treasurer. Eleven of our class members were asked to join the Beta Club. These were Bonnie Goodman, Jack Galliher, Dot Campbell, Ann Powlas, Peggy Gatton, Willie Mae Graham, Jacqueline Lloyd, Billy Moore, Joseph Mowery, Elizabeth Wensil, and Irene Wilhelm. With Mr. William Griffith as our advisor, we completed this year knowing we were really advancing on toward graduation.

The path began to get shorter and more difficult as we entered our junior year. Grit and determination were glowing from everyone, because we knew our goal was just around the bend. Some turned back and found new adventure, but to us who struggled on, still seeking our diploma, a year of hard work lay ahead. As our leaders for this year, we chose Bonnie Goodman, President; Jack Galliher, Vice-President; Dot Campbell, Secretary; and Ann Powlas, Treasurer. Under the guidance and leadership of Mrs. Nita Wagoner, our advisor, we presented our Junior play, "If Mother Only Knew", which was a big success. The cast included Eddie Pennell, Philip Kepley, Billy Moore, Jack Galliher, Betty Cashion, Bonnie Goodman, Lois Smith, Carlton Myers, Dot Campbell, Willie Mae Graham, and Jo Hendrix. The highlight of this year was our Junior-Senior Prom, under the able direction of Miss Dorothy Clodfelter, given in honor of the graduating class of '52. To finance this, we sponsored the Sauline Players and took the proceeds from our junior play. Marshals from the junior class were Willie Mae Graham and Bonnie Goodman, Co-Chiefs, Peggy Gatton, Jacqueline Lloyd, Dot Campbell, and Ann Powlas.

At last we have reached the beginning of the end of our journey. With the end in view, we chose as our leaders for the final step of this great and unforgettable adventure Billy Moore, President; Irene Wilhelm, Vice-President; Dot Campbell, Secretary; and Jo Hendrix, Treasurer; our advisor was Mrs. Ben Battle.

As we begin this fourth and final year, we are looking forward to publishing the seventh edition of the Clevana, our trip to Washington, the Junior-Senior and that memorable day when we receive our diplomas.

To all teachers, parents, friends, and classmates, we wish to express our undying gratitude for making the graduating class of '53 one of the largest, thirty-four in number, and greatest ever graduated from Cleveland High School. Of this we are proud.

As we turn to face the future and reach for high goals, we say, "Thanks for a job well-done", to all who have helped to make our journey successful.

Class Prophecy

I hurried up the steps to the apartment Ruby and I shared together on Fifth Avenue. This was the day we had been looking forward to for many months because this was the day we would grab our bags and head for North Carolina and "home sweet home."

We hurriedly ate and were soon in a cab on our way to La Guardia Field to board a plane for home.

As we stepped into the plane who should we see but Jack Galliher as the pilot of the plane with Jacqueline Lloyd as his stewardess. I must admit I wasn't too pleased with the idea at first, as I had never dreamed of Jack becoming a pilot, and always felt a wee bit unsafe while in a plane anyway. But when I got settled down with a magazine I soon forgot my worries.

While glancing through the pictures in the magazine I found that Bonnie Goodman was now an artist for Time Magazine. She certainly had done well for herself.

I had been so interested in the magazine that I hadn't noticed any of the passengers aboard until someone tapped me on the shoulder. Glancing up, I saw Lieutenants Jerry Sudderth and Carlton Myers standing there with the same bright smiles I remembered them by in high school. They were now both instructors at an army base in New Jersey. My! This was a pleasant surprise. It just made me feel at home to see my old classmates and they seemed to know quite a bit about our school chums, since they got furloughs rather often. They told me that while taking training at Fort Jackson, South Carolina they had met up with Lois Smith and Jo Hendrix, who were stationed with the Wacs there. It seemed that Jerry Cauble had stuck to his much desired ambition of becoming a baseball player and was now a first baseman for the Cardinals. Eddie Pennell, who had attended State College and taught in several different schools, was now the coach at Cleveland High. Billy Moore and Philip Kepley are both happily married now. Billy is kept pretty busy as an engineer for the Southern Railway and Philip owns and operates a sporting goods store. You might know he would just have to be in the ball business one way or another, as much as he always liked it.

Joe Mowery is employed by a Construction Company and Harry Hipp and Gerald Shoaf are now busy harvesting and planting two of the largest farms around Cleveland. They didn't seem to know much about the girls.

The co-pilot came by telling us to fasten our safety belts because we had to make an emergency landing in Washington, D. C. The plane had developed engine trouble and we would have to stay there for two hours. It was nearly dinner time and we were both starved, so we left the airport and went up street to a nearby restaurant to eat. Entering the door we saw two familiar faces, Irene Wilhelm and Nora Lee Beaver. We had lunch with them and they told us how much they were enjoying their work with the F. B. I. They told us Betty Albright is a secretary in a large insurance firm here in Washington, and Phyllis Myers is a typist in one of the newspaper offices. Betty Cashion and Peggy Gattton had visited the week before while Betty was on vacation from her job as receptionist at Long's Hospital. Peggy also works as a nurse there.

"Oh," I thought, "how time flies." Our two hours were almost up so we said our goodbyes and went back to the plane for the last lap of our trip home.

Soon we landed in Charlotte. Again we had to wait several hours before the bus left for Cleveland. As it happened we had Mary Alice Phifer's and Peggy Gentle's address with us, so we looked them up. They seemed to be enjoying their work as telephone operators. They told us that Iva Lee Redman was now a nurse at Mercy Hospital. Barbara Jean Lyerly and Anne Powlas are the only two teachers we have from our class of '53. Anne is teaching at Boyden and Barbara Jean at Cannon High in Kannapolis. Wilma Plyler is head cashier at Ketner's Super Market, and Elizabeth Wensil is Home Demonstration agent for Forsyth County.

Kathryn Steele had just returned from a trip abroad doing missionary work. She was giving a lecture at one of the churches in Charlotte that night which Mary Alice and Peggy were planning to attend.

Several of our classmates had decided on marriage instead of a career. Sarah Pinkston is now Mrs. Bobby Godbey. She is also working part-time at Guyes Betty Lou. Betty Graham is now Mrs. Clifford Shuemaker and the mother of three lovely children. Ruth Powlas is married to Hubert Privette and has a lovely daughter who attends Willie Mae Graham's school of dancing in Salisbury.

It seemed only yesterday that our vacation began and now it was time to get back to the hustle and bustle of New York City. The past two weeks were two of the shortest weeks of my life and also two of the most enjoyable because all the precious memories of '53 were brought back to me again.

Our classmates certainly seemed to have used our motto, "Forward Ever, Backward Never", because all of them have certainly made a success of their chosen professions.

Statistics

According to a recent nation wide census, I have found that there are thirty-four seniors in the Class of 1953 at Cleveland High School. It is made up of twenty-four girls and ten boys.

The girls who do nothing but study and practice a little bit of basketball, have an average weight of one hundred-twenty and eight tenths pounds. The boys who devote all their time to football, basketball, and baseball, and who keep in training all the time, have an average weight of one hundred-forty seven pounds which is ninety-nine per cent muscle.

The girls' average age is seventeen years while the boys' is seventeen and one fourth.

There are only two famous love affairs in the Senior Class. These love affairs involve Dot Campbell and Irene Wilhelm, and two boys as you could guess.

We now come to a matter which you have to see instead of being told because girls sometimes don't like to talk about their shoe size. I stood the girls in a row and glanced along the line at their shoes, and I found that you could pour more champagne into Irene Wilhelm's slipper than anyone else's. The boys being more liberal about their shoe size, told me that Carlton Myers had them all beat with a size ten.

The favorite movie actress is June Allyson, and the actor is Jimmie Stewart. These are not representative choices because when voting time comes around the girls have a large majority. The favorite song of the whole class is "You Belong To Me". The favorite spine tingler of the girls is Eddie Fisher. The boys pick Perry Como.

The favorite food of the Senior Class is champagne and caviar. This is a high classed meal, but so are the Seniors. The favorite pastime of the Senior Class is attending famous operas and enjoying the singing of Eleanor Steber and Thomas L. Thomas. The favorite opera is Madam Butterfly.

When Sunday morning comes around you will find the Senior Class is very evenly divided in its choice of churches.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of Cleveland High School, being of sound mind and good memory, do hereby make, declare and publish this to be our last will and testament.

To our parents we will and bequeath our undying love for their patience and understanding in helping us attain a high school education.

To the faculty we wish to express our most sincere appreciation for the guidance and helpfulness rendered us throughout these twelve years by them.

To the Junior Class we leave our title of "Dignified Seniors" which we so reverently have carried, in hopes that they will be able to uphold it, and also the job of publishing an annual.

First: I, Betty Albright, do hereby will and bequeath my gift of gab and sense of humor to Betty Witherspoon.

Second: I, Nora Lee Beaver, will and bequeath my short hair style to Kathleen Taylor.

Third: I, Dot Campbell, do will and bequeath my Les Acteurs' membership to Dennis McDaniel.

Fourth: I, Betty Cashion, do will and bequeath my love of dancing to Sue Russell.

Fifth: I, Jerry Cauble, do will my superiority to lay out of school to Paul Temple.

Sixth: I, Jack Galliher, not having anything to will, would like to reserve my position beside Mary Frances' locker.

Seventh: I, Peggy Gatton, will and bequeath my walk to Wanda Beaver.

Eighth: I, Peggy Gentle, will and bequeath my feminine ways to Lois Poteat.

Ninth: I, Betty Graham, do will my freckles to Lorene Hamilton, who is fortunate enough not to have any.

Tenth: I, Ruby Graham, do will and bequeath my comb and mirror to Patsy Rowland.

Eleventh: I, Jo Hendrix, do hereby will and bequeath my ability of acting and singing to Sarah Brown.

Twelfth: I, Harry Hipp, will my cuteness to Worth Mullis.

Thirteenth: We, Philip Kepley and Eddie Pennell do hereby will and bequeath our positions as co-captains of the football team to Jimmy Kyles and Ray Myers.

Fourteenth: I, Jacqueline Lloyd, do will and bequeath my Beta membership to Ralph Christy.

Fifteenth: I, Barbara Jean Lyerly, do will my ability to catch boyfriends to Marie Rumple.

Sixteenth: I, Bill Moore, do hereby will and bequeath that streamlined luxury liner, Bus No. 21, to Mr. Battle because with a little more practice and determination he could become a "pretty fair country bus driver".

Seventeenth: I, Joseph Mowery, do will my bashfulness with girls to Bill Somers.

Eighteenth: I, Carlton Myers, being of sound mind and strong body will to Jimmy Kyles the honor, which I have held so long of being the best behaved boy on bus no. 8, hoping he can uphold the high standards I have set forth.

Nineteenth: I, Phyllis Myers, will my ability to type seventy-two words per minute to Wayne Beaver.

Twentieth: I, Mary Alice Phifer, do will and bequeath my muzzle to Coach to protect his glasses when he becomes All American.

Twenty-First: I, Sarah Pinkston, will and bequeath my faithfulness to one boy to Nell McCubbins.

Twenty-Second: I, Wilma Plyler, do will and bequeath my shyness to Virginia Davis.

Twenty-Third: I, Ruth Powlas, do will my love of arguing and being stubborn to Annie Laura Hall, because she never seems to do either.

Twenty-Fourth: I, Iva Lee Redman, will and bequeath my shorthand book to Martha Steele, hoping that she will be able to pass it.

Twenty-Fifth: I, Gerald Shoaf, do will my World History Book to any unlucky student who may be unfortunate enough to get it.

Twenty-Sixth: I, Lois Smith, do will and bequeath my technique for skipping class on Monday mornings to Nelson Myers.

Twenty-Seventh: I, Jerry Sudderth do will and bequeath my seat at the table with all girls in sixth period study hall to Gary Goodman.

Twenty-Eighth: I, Elizabeth Wensil, do will and bequeath my position as cashier in the lunch room to Paul Foster.

Twenty-Ninth: I, Irene Wilhelm, do will my position as most outstanding basketball player to Doris McDaniel.

Thirtieth: We, "The Big Four", namely Bonnie Goodman, Willie Mae Graham, Anne Powlas and Kathryn Steele, do hereby will and bequeath our loyalty to one another to June Powlas, Becky Barber, Genelda Kepley and Frances Graham.

In witness thereof, I, Kathryn Steele, have been authorized, directed and delegated by the Senior Class to bring together its last will and testament and with its help do hereto set my hand and affix my seal on this, the twenty-second of May in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and fifty-three.

THE ROAD AHEAD

We look upon the road ahead
With sadness and with fear
But on we march with heads held high
And minds alert and clear.

We do not climb the narrow road
Forsaken and alone
Beside us walking hand in hand
Are all the friends we've known.

Never do we look behind us
To the grief, woe and strife
But rather to the road ahead
That beckons us to life.

Jimmy Kyles Provided Spark In Cleveland's Win Over Cooleemee

By SONNY ALLEN
Post Sports Writer

The big surprise of the county football season came Friday night, when Cleveland High's spirited Eagles swamped Cooleemee, 25-0, for their first win of the campaign.

Providing the spark for the battling Eagles was a 165-pound quarterback, who did everything like a war-tested veteran.

Jimmy Kyles turned in a brilliant performance as he passed and ran his football club, winless in four outings, to a sweet triumph in bowling over the Cools, which is Cleveland's biggest rival.

For that outstanding job, Kyles becomes the third "Star of the Week" as selected by The Salisbury Post.

All season Kyles has been recognized as one of the top passers in the county, however, the small Clevelanders could not stand up against the larger schools they had faced.

Last Friday night something happened to the Eagles. Coach Emmitt Feimster's gridders came onto the field with fire in their eyes, and after the game they trotted off with their victory.

Complete 15 Passes

Spearheading the attack for the boys of western Rowan was the strong right arm of Quarterback Kyles. The six-footer, who plays under the center, fired 20 passes and connected on 15 for a total of 185 yards through the air lanes.

Kyles showed up as every bit of the passer that he is and this time even went a little beyond. In previous games he only passed, but against Cooleemee Kyles turned in an excellent exhibition of footwork. Kyles danced into paydirt for two TD's.

Kyles led a 45-yard thrust to a touchdown the first time Cleveland got its hand on the ball. The Eagles scored twice in the third period, one of which was a 35-yard pass from Kyles to end Jerry Cauble.

The fancy-throwing quarterback had some fine receivers for his aerials in ends Bill Summers and Jack Galliher and halfback Jerry Cauble. Aiding Kyles in the backfield chores were Harry Hipp, Ray

JIMMY KYLES . . . Was leader in Cleveland's win over Cools.

Myers, and Jerry Cauble.

The Cleveland line also played its best game of the year. The forward wall held the visitors outside of the Cleveland 30 yard line all evening, and repeatedly opened gaping holes for the backs to sweep through.

Jimmy, who is a junior this year, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Kyles of Statesville Road.

Kyles does not confine his athletic talent to football. He plays forward on the Cleveland basketball team and is the leading pitcher on the Eagles' baseball club.

Honorable mention for Player-of-the-Week goes to Steve Deal, Landis guard who played an outstanding game against Rockwell. Also mentioned for top honors were Tommy Faggart of China Grove and Doug Lingle of Granite Quarry.

Carolyn:

I have enjoyed knowing you all my life; and how silly we have acted together along with Carol. Remember how we use to get mad at each other and argue. Always remember the times I went home with you and your sweet and my "shuts" came to us. you. Good when you introduced me to her. how silly he acted! but I can see why. Remember when the boys and girls came up here from "Pearly" the boys that we did appreciate. I thought you were cute and are still cute.
